IN MEMORIAM

When a person dies an emptiness remains, not just a gap in space or time, but a deep emotional feeling. For everyone who knew him, the feeling is personal and intimate. "To live in the hearts we leave behind is not to die."

T. Campbell

We regret that we were unable to procure a picture of Carol Gawron, another deceased member of the Class of 1968.

New Trends in New Jersey Education

This is a watershed year in the history of Glassboro State College.

In its past lies a distinguished career in which its energy and talents have been almost solely devoted to the preparation of teachers.

It now enters a new era, as a multi-purpose institution. Undoubtedly it will retain a major interest in teacher preparation, but increasingly, as it grows, almost half of its enrollment will pursue other careers, including the specializations which grow out of a liberal arts program.

In this era the College will have greater autonomy of decision, in some cases within the fabric of a state-wide master plan.

The future, therefore, will place more emphasis upon the involvement of the individual —the student, the faculty member, and, importantly, the alumnus. It is the latter group you are now joining, in an era in which the decision-making process will growingly lie in your hands. It is hoped that you will involve yourself in Glassboro's future, as you have in its immediate past.

The Senate.

"Alt right yau guys . . ."

The Student Government has many responsibilities and purposes which it hopefully accomplishes each academic year.

First, it strives to maintain a high level of college spirit. Secondly, the SGA promotes the general welfare of the students. There are many ways that SGA tries to achieve these goals within its basic structure. My thanks go out to all those students who worked so hard to achieve a general atmosphere of success at Glassboro State College during the '67-'68 school year.

CLASS OF 1968

He just might give us a test.

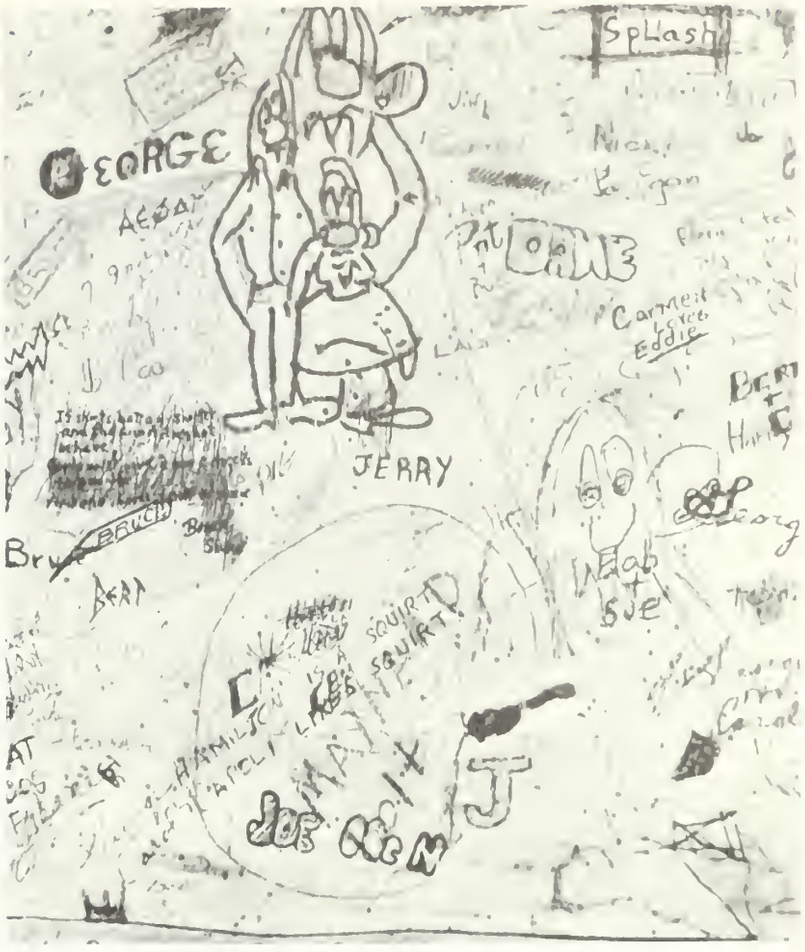
Studies among the noise.

An exchange of ideas.

Lunchtime doodling.

Junior High majors at Stokes.

The look of wonder.



The look of boredom.

The look of disbelief.

The graduating Class of 1968 inscribes this page for Joe Brigandi, who although not a member of the college proper, has done much for the Senior class in the course of its four years at Glassboro. He was one of the first citizens of Glassboro many freshmen met when they arrived here. Upperclassmen would say, "Do you want to order from Joe's," and the natural reply was, "Who's Joe?" And off they would go to find out in one of the first steps to Freshman Orientation.

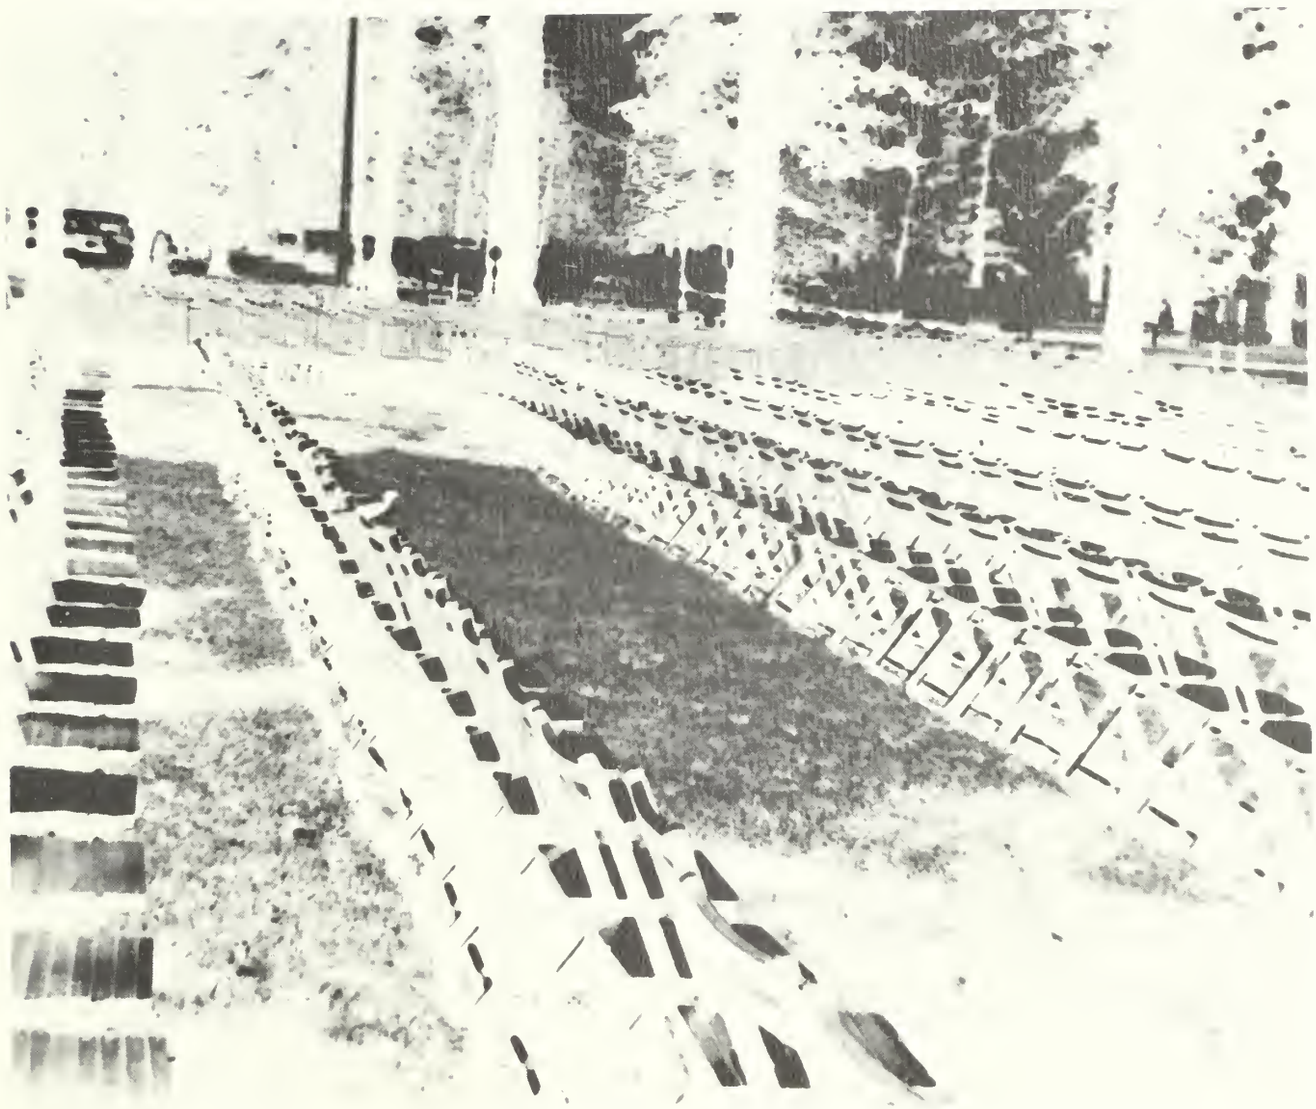
Joe, better known as "Joe's Sub Shop Joe," has helped to fill many growling stomachs 'long about 9:00 p.m.

Did you happen to remember Spring Vacation rolling around, with everyone making plans to go to Florida, and there you were, still dreaming? Once again Joe came to the rescue with a reasonable way to get there and back.

Memories of the days when a check had to be cashed? The bookstore was closed—what to do? Take a short walk to Joe's, walk in, walk out, and you had cash instead of a check.

These are just a few of the things Joe Brigandi has done for the class of 1968, but above all else, Joe has been a friend.

SENIORS



Where's registration? The gym? Why can't we use this door? Look at that line. Pictures? But it's raining and my hair is a mess. SEPTEMBER, 1964. These were the sounds of the Class of Distinction as we first caught a glimpse of our home for the next four years. "Four years—where did they go?" is the cliche. But looking back each hour can be accounted for—classes, lectures, hours in the co-op, discussions in your room with 20 people crowded in, concerts, dances, lazy days under the trees, The Temptations, The Four Seasons, Earl Wilson and Lois Hunt, Dionne Warrick, Carnival, countless organization meetings, student teaching . . .

Leaders emerged. Goals were set. We worked hard and were proud when we succeeded. Gaining knowledge, confidence and purpose we grew and saw the College grow and gain in prestige. With Graduation here, suddenly a foreward-looking group is becoming part of the College's past. We are separating to pursue individual hopes, plans and goals. THE CLASS OF DISTINCTION must move on.

THE SUMMIT CONFERENCE

The Summit Conferences held at Glassboro on June 23-25, with President Lyndon B. Johnson of the United States and Premier Alexei Kosygin of the U.S.S.R. gracing our campus, was assuredly a mountaintop experience for the College, but we hope that you have experienced many mountaintop experiences in your four years with us—and that other experiences, similarly thrilling, exciting, and meaningful, will befall you in future years.

As you have grown in these four years, so has the College, confident that strong and enduring foundations have been laid to support the aspirations which move all of us to new summits of competence, service, leadership, and character.

You will carry our affection with you as you serve a constantly improving world.

FACULTY

The faculty of GSC has shown a continuing interest in the problems of higher education in New Jersey, and they have also maintained their interest in the individual student and his academic and social progress. The Oak staff of 1968 has chosen this year to present the faculty informally in our yearbook because we feel they should be remembered as we saw them most frequently.

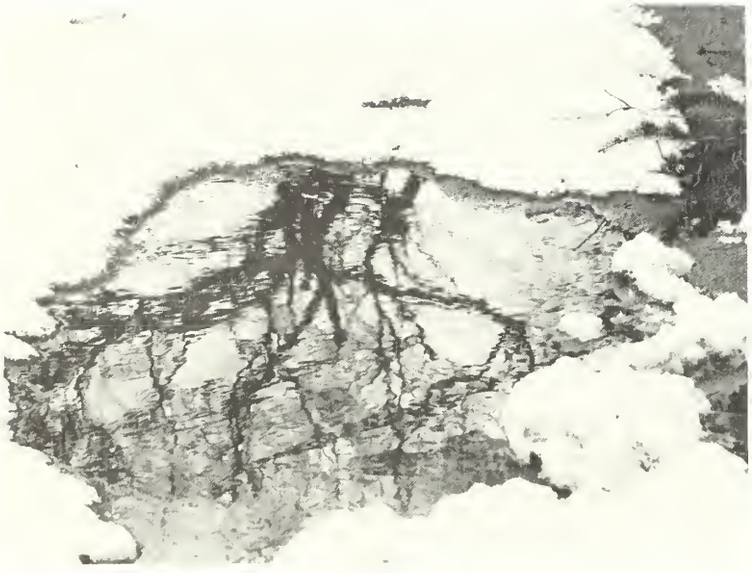
BUNCE HALL

WINTER '68



"The shadow of the dome of pleasure
Floated midway on the waves;
Where was heard the mingled measure
From the mountains and the caves.
It was a miracle of rare device,
A sunny pleasure-dome with caves of ice!"

—from Kubla Khan
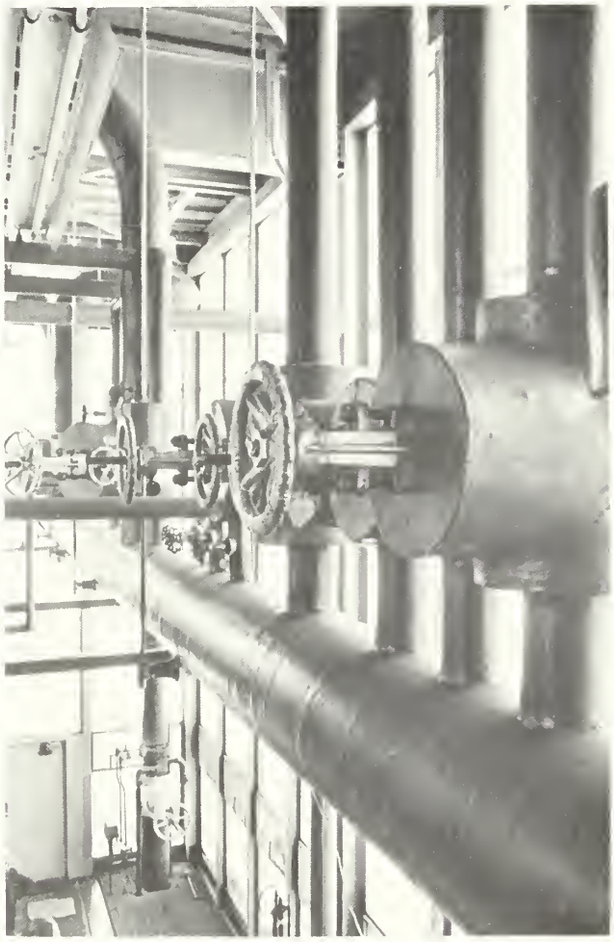
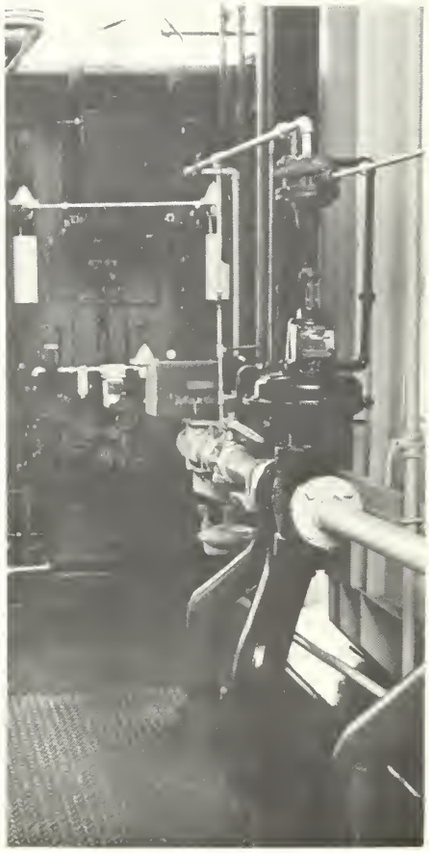
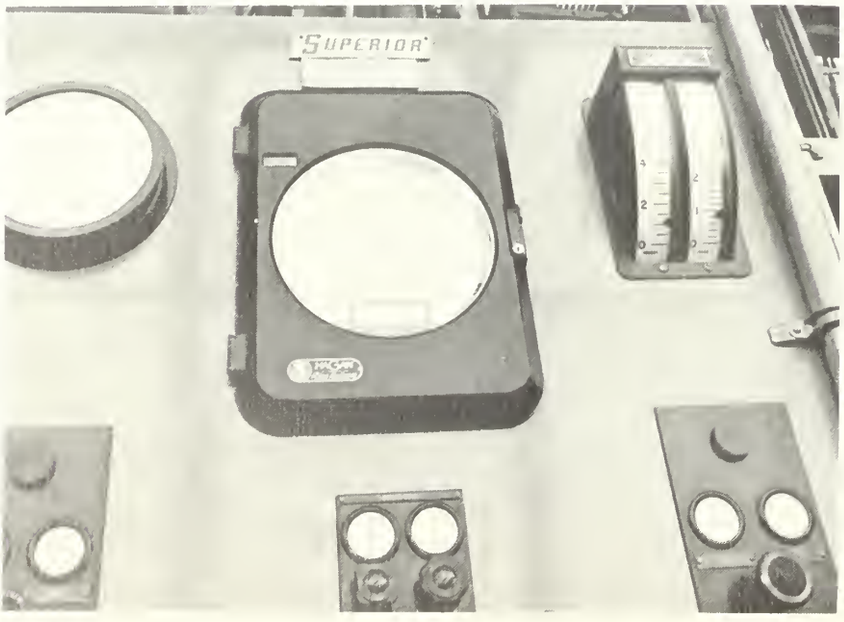
by Samuel Taylor Coleridge

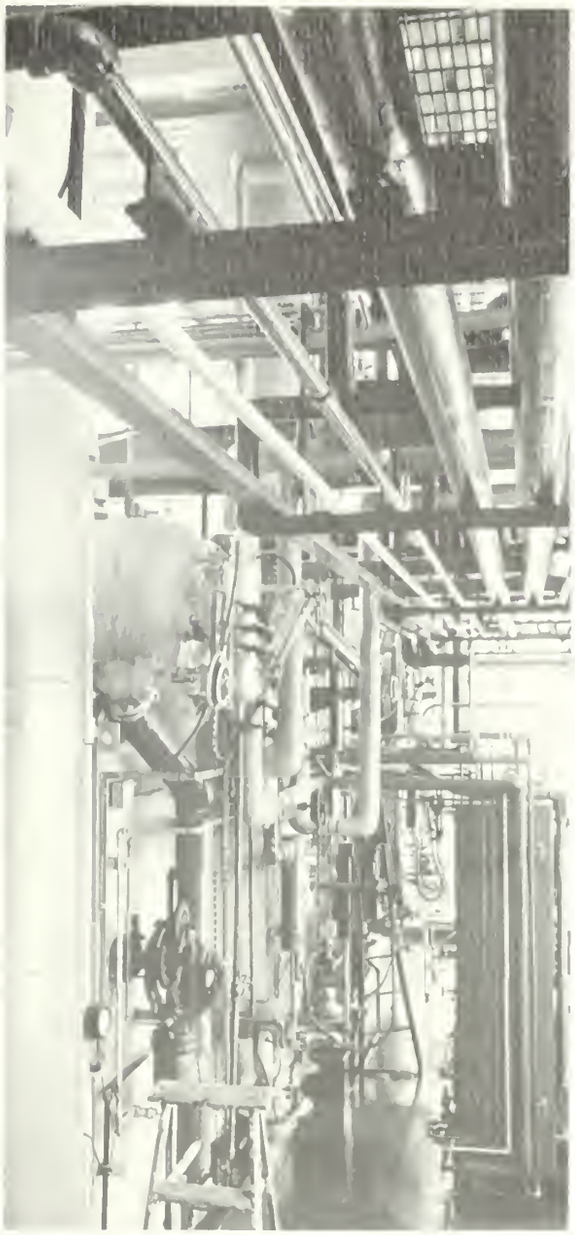
HEATING PLANT

The heating plant. A visually disregarded element on campus. But a possessor of its own type of beauty. A geometric arrangement of plumbing and gauges, the patterns that emanate warmth in 20th century fashion. The statistics of warmth are important to only a few; the comfort that these statistics produce are important to us all.









GREEN HOUSE

Have you ever wondered why the campus flower beds are blooming when the rest of nature is still dormant? The simple answer is the college "Head Start" program for beauty. Headquarters is located in the Greenhouse. It is here that plants are initially planted, are watered, and fed, under the direction of Mr. Elmer Jones. Just before the plants are ready to bloom, they are transplanted to the many flower-beds that dot the campus. Throughout the spring and summer months, the beds are periodically changed, as new varieties of flowers come into bloom, providing an ever-changing array of color.

Everyone enjoys a football game.

Jump shot.

SPORTS

It's mine!

Just one base to go.

Glassboro State College has expanded its sports program in the last four years, not only to include football but also to involve more students in its existing athletic activities. Sports have long been an integral part of the college program and have continued to progress with the growth of the college.

Besides football, Glassboro State fields baseball, soccer, cross-country, golf, wrestling, lacrosse, tennis, swimming and basketball teams which play active schedules throughout the year.

Good grief!

CAMPUS ACTIVITIES

AND STUDENT LIFE

Glassboro State College, for at least ten months out of the year, supplies the greatest part of the social world for 3,500 students. Concerts, plays, sports, meetings, lectures, movies, dances, debates and special projects provide the active participation students need to become involved with their school. This year the Christmas card, Project Santa, theatre trips and production of plays filled the spare hours of many people, and the future will undoubtedly bring more activity to the GSC campus.

CARD

As the first light of dawn broke on the horizon, a tired group of students dragged the last 100 yards of their fifty-mile hike from Glassboro to Fort Dix. The purpose? The delivery of a Christmas card from Glassboro State with love. The students had put in hours and hours of walking to show their support for the boys in Viet Nam at a time of year when everyone should be home in front of a fireplace. Their reward was evident—there was a sparkle in the eye of each and every student, and a feeling of deep satisfaction at having done something of worth for someone who deserved it.
